

◀ CALEB CAIN
MARCUS: A PORTRAIT OF ICE

National Academy of Sciences, Washington, DC, through July 7

cpnas.org

A New Yorker who was born in Colorado's Rocky Mountains, Caleb Cain Marcus has traveled from Patagonia to Alaska to Iceland making "portraits" of glaciers. His minimalist yet grandiose compositions focus on ice and sky with no traces of human presence or interference. Poetic and timeless, these ethereal images are seductive through their serene grandeur and subtle variations of color.